Message from Principal

Ms. Soma Bhattacharjee

"The most meaningful learning often begins where the lesson ends."

Every academic year is a journey of discovery—of knowledge, experiences, relationships and, most importantly, of the self. While the classroom provides the foundation for learning, the experiences beyond it often help children discover their strengths, develop their perspectives and understand their place in a changing world. At our school, we believe that true education must go beyond academic achievement. It must nurture curiosity, creativity, confidence, empathy and resilience, enabling our students to grow into well-rounded individuals prepared to engage meaningfully with the world around them.

The first term has been a vibrant journey of learning and participation, with our students engaging enthusiastically in academics as well as a range of co-curricular activities and experiences. Each opportunity has encouraged them to explore, collaborate, express themselves and grow with confidence. Our teachers have been instrumental in making this journey meaningful, going beyond the curriculum to inspire, guide and encourage every learner. Equally valuable is the partnership of our parents, whose trust, encouragement and continued support strengthen the bridge between home and school.

As we step into the new term, may we continue to create opportunities that inspire our students to learn with purpose, participate with enthusiasm and grow with confidence. With the collective efforts of our students, teachers and parents, may the months ahead bring new ideas, meaningful experiences and many milestones to celebrate.

Wishing our entire school community a productive, fulfilling and enriching term ahead.

Message from Vice Principal

Ms. Shifa Parvez Shaikh

"The way we speak to our children becomes the voice they carry within themselves."

Every child enters the world with a unique voice, a curious mind and an immense capacity to learn and grow. As educators and parents, we have the privilege—and the responsibility—of being part of that journey. What we say, how we listen and the way we respond to their successes and struggles can leave impressions that remain long after the moment has passed.

In the rush of everyday life, it is easy to focus on results—marks, achievements, competitions and milestones. Yet there is another kind of growth that deserves our attention: the growth that happens quietly. A child learning to believe in themselves, finding the courage to try again after failure, learning to express emotions, or simply knowing that there is someone who will listen without judgement.

Parenting is not about having all the answers or protecting children from every difficulty. It is about providing a secure foundation from which they can explore, make mistakes, learn and gradually find their own way. Sometimes, the most meaningful parenting moments are found in the simplest things—a conversation at the end of a long day, a patient response, an encouraging word or the willingness to simply be present. As a school, we deeply value the partnership we share with our parents. When home and school work together with understanding and trust, we create a stronger environment in which children can flourish—not only as learners, but as individuals.

As we begin a new term, may we pause to consider not only "what" we want our children to achieve, but also "how we want them to feel as they grow" - heard, valued, encouraged and confident in who they are becoming.

Wishing our students and families a meaningful, joyful, and fulfilling term ahead.

Message from Headmistress

Dr. Najla Mohammed Bukhari
